

ACCESS BARRIERS FOR PATIENTS WITH RARE DISEASES

THE 30 MILLION AMERICANS

with rare diseases deserve patient-centered care.

Several barriers stand in their way.

Rare diseases frequently go

MISDIAGNOSED OR UNDIAGNOSED

due to:

Low awareness about rare diseases

Barriers to diagnostic testing

Limited access to specialists

Even diagnosed patients may have limited treatment options or high

OUT-OF-POCKET COSTS

INSURANCE HURDLES

can also make access to treatment difficult.

Access barriers shouldn't deter care for patients with rare diseases.
